PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, This year marks the tenth annual observance of the nonsectarian Religion In American Life Program

WHEREAS, Our country's health, happiness, and progress depend upon the vigor and breadth of our spiritual life. Since the first days of settlement, Americans have had a firm faith in the Creator of all things. They have shown that it is possible for people of many different faiths to live together amicably and understandingly as good citizens of our great republic. Freedom of worship is guaranteed to us by our Constitution.

WHEREAS, Whatever our form of worship, religion is an inspiring and ennobling influence not only in our individual lives, but also in the affairs of our community, our state, and our nation.

WHEREAS, November has been designated by the Religion In American Life movement as a special period to stress the importance of an active spiritual life, and it is fitting that all of us join in the observance.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Joe Foss, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim November, 1958, as in the State of South Dakota, and urge all our people, young and old, to attend regularly the house of worship of their choice, not only during this month but also throughout the year.

Joe Foss
